Battle of the bytes

CRTC ruling would have allowed major Internet providers to charge for data based on usage Currently, smaller companies don't pay per gigabyte for data that they buy off larger companies, allowing them to offer unlimited usage

The CRTC will delay implementing its controversial ruling on Internet billing practices while it reviews the decision.

Commission chairman Konrad von Finckenstein told a House of Commons committee Thursday that the introduction of usage-based billing will be delayed for at least 60 days beyond the proposed March 1 start date.

Von Finckenstein said the review will seek to verify that the decision protects customers and penalizes only the minority of people who are heavy consumers.

Industry Minister Tony Clement had said the government was ready to step in if the commission refused to take another look at the issue.

Von Finckenstein told the committee he had no contact with Clement, and that the CRTC decided on its own to delay implementation of its ruling.

Smaller providers were able to offer unlimited plans because they didn't pay by the gigabyte for the data they buy off the larger companies. The CRTC ruling changed that.

But the Harper government said if the CRTC comes back with the same plan, it will be overruled.

Don't rush making TTC essential: Union

Ontario politicians return from break Feb. 22, which gives them more than a month to get bill passed

The main union for Toronto transit workers is urging the province to slow down plans to declare the service essential and, in return, promising not to strike during contract negotiations this year.

The province is poised to declare the Toronto Transit Commission an essential service by the end of March, when the first of three union agreements expires.

Bob Kinnear, president of Amalgamated Transit Union Local 113, says that's putting an unnecessary rush on things.

"This does not leave a lot of time to give unemotional and thoughtful consideration to a law that may well raise significant issues with respect to our members' fundamental rights," said Kinnear.

"There should be full debate in the legislative assembly, and full public consultation."

Kinnear promised Thursday that, if necessary, the union will go to binding arbitration rather than disrupt service while it negotiates a new contract.

"If we can achieve (continuity in service) by sitting down with the union and working something out voluntarily, then it's in our respective interests to do so."
TTC CHAIR KAREN STINTZ

That means the union will act like an essential services law is already in place, Kinnear said, while allowing more time for consultation.

"There is no longer a necessity to ram through legislation," Kinnear said.

TTC chair Karen Stintz attended the union's announcement, and said the city is happy to discuss the issue with the union.

But the city will be pushing forward to get the legislation passed, she added.

Bus route service cuts approved

The Toronto Transit Commission has voted to cut service hours on 41 less-travelled bus routes so it can increase service on overcrowded ones.

Some routes will no longer have late-night bus service and, in some cases, no weekend service.

The criteria for the cuts was revised after hearing from the public at four meetings last week, but many riders were still not happy.

Some concerned passengers said it means they will have to walk farther to catch a bus at night, and they don't feel safe.

The TTC says ridership numbers along these routes are too low to justify the cost. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Starting in May

- The service changes, which are projected to save $4 million, will take effect May 8.

On Thursday, the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario kicked off Heart Month 2011. At 5:30 p.m., major Ontario landmarks, including the CN Tower, the Hockey Hall of Fame, the Art Gallery of Ontario, the RBC Dexia Building, Niagara Falls, Science North – Dynamic Earth, the Lord Elgin hotel, the Residence Inn by Marriott Ottawa, Thunder Bay City Hall, Ceasars Windsor Hotel & Casino and Yonge-Dundas Square, were lit up in red. The lights will stay on for all of February.

Minister takes shot at Tories' health record

Ontario voters face a real choice this fall between a party that once compared nurses to Hula Hoops or a government that built hospitals and hired nurses, Health Minister Deb Matthews said Thursday.

Addressing nurses at their annual lobby day at the legislature, Matthews launched into a partisan attack on the Tories for slashing health-care spending during their time in office from 1995 to 2003.

Matthews cut right to the chase, reminding the nurses that former Progressive Conservative premier Mike Harris once suggested they were nothing more than a fad.

"It was outrageous what happened to nurses the last time (Conservatives) were in charge, and I just have to remind you: Hula Hoops," Matthews said as nurses laughed awkwardly.

"Sorry. I had to do it, because the point they were making is sometimes things go out of style and nurses had gone out of style. That sticks with me."

▶ Health Minister Deb Matthews

The health minister went on to claim the Tories plan to cut $3 billion from health care if they win the Oct. 6 election because the previous PC leader, John Tory, promised in the 2007 campaign to eliminate the health-care premium.

The Conservatives accused Matthews of deliberately misleading the nurses, and said current PC Leader Tim Hudak never promised to scrap the health-care premium of up to $900 per worker that Premier Dalton McGuinty introduced in his first term.

"She's clearly lying," said PC critic Sylvia Jones.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

P.C. policy?

The Tories said all options for tax relief are on the table as they prepare their campaign platform, but leader Tim Hudak promised the nurses a PC government would not reduce health-care spending.

- "In fact, the health budget will increase," Hudak told the nurses. "It's the right thing to do, but it doesn't mean we're going to spend every penny in the same way."
- For example, Hudak said he would shut down regional health networks known as LHINs, and thus save about $80 million a year, money he would put into front-line services.

The curvy palace that calculus built

Director of Museum of Modern Art has called it one of the 'most important private houses' in North America

When James Stewart goes on book tours in China, they ask for his autograph. In Toronto, the city's elite gather at his home for concerts. People have drunkenly stumbled into his infinity pool.

Stewart's 18,000-square-foot home, named Integral House, is an architectural marvel. It has five floors, a concert space and a stairwell ensconced in hand-blown blue glass, his favourite colour. The house is filled with gadgets. Stewart delights in showing them off, including the wall-to-wall blinds that block out the sun with a push of a button in his tree-top bedroom.

$30M

There are some numbers James Stewart doesn't like to talk about. One is his age. Another is the cost of his home. Estimates have pegged it at $30 million.

He travelled the world to interview architects, including Frank Gehry. He chose Howard Sutcliffe and Brigitte Shim of Shim-Sutcliffe Architects in Toronto, and told them he wanted curves and performance space.

Stewart bought a $5.4-million house that backs on to a ravine in Rosedale in 2002 and tore it down a year later. Integral House took six years to build, on account of its curves.

From the street, only two storeys are visible. The main living space was built one floor below street level, so it feels like you're descending into the ravine. The back half of the house is glass mixed with oak fins. The house has minimal interior decoration — the trees outside are the real focal point. They are visible from all five floors.

Egypt claims crisis fuelled by outsiders

Pro-government mobs beat foreign journalists with sticks Human rights activists were also targeted

Protesters and regime supporters fought in a second day of rock-throwing battles at a central Cairo square while new lawlessness spread around the city. New looting and arson erupted, and gangs of thugs supporting President Hosni Mubarak attacked reporters, foreigners and rights workers while the army rounded up foreign journalists.

The government increasingly spread an image that foreigners were fuelling the turmoil and supporting the tens of thousands in the street who for more than 10 days have demanded the immediate ouster of Mubarak, Egypt's unquestioned ruler for nearly three decades.

"When there are demonstrations of this size, there will be foreigners who come and take advantage and they have an agenda to raise the energy of the pro-testers," Vice-President Omar Suleiman said in an interview on state TV.

Sick of hassles at airports?

Ottawa has felt your pain and has announced changes.

Small scissors and tools, such as eyeglass screwdrivers, are now OK aboard passenger planes in Canada. But there's a six-centimetre limit for these tools, excluding the handle.

Restrictions on liquids, gels and aerosols remain the same. And knives of any length, including Swiss Army multi-tools, are still banned.

Transport Minister Chuck Strahl said he recognizes frustrations over air security: "It's a process that's more tolerated than enjoyed."

Clear for takeoff

Transport Minister Chuck Strahl said Thursday changes are in the works to speed up security screening at airports.

- "There will be new dedicated lanes for families and those with special needs, with equipment specifically designed for bigger items like strollers," he said.
- There will also be new lines for frequent travellers pre-approved under the long-running Nexus card program.
- Strahl said smarter screening will give special attention to high-threat items, such as explosives.

Slaughtered dogs called old and sick

50 The statement raises questions because it doesn't refer to 100 dogs but only 50 it says needed to be put down.

The man at the centre of the slaughter of up to 100 sled dogs says half the animals put down were old, sick or "not adoptable."

Robert Fawcett and the company that bought his business, Outdoor Adventures, issued a statement that said: "These dogs live to run and were not able to do so."

They would have been kept in cages "with the result that they would have had very poor or virtually no quality of life."

More Quotes = More Savings On Car Insurance

Do You Love Shopping Around For The Best Deal?

If you're like most people, you'll often spend hours doing research, checking flyers, looking for specials, and running from one store to another to make sure you get the best possible price on everyday items such as; clothes, electronics, furniture, and even groceries. Nothing beats the thrill of knowing you paid less for something by shopping at one place instead of the other, right? It all adds up – the time you invest and knowing where to go to get the best deals could end up saving you a bundle in the long run.

When Was The Last Time You Shopped for Car Insurance?

Sadly, even the smartest shoppers often don't spend nearly the same amount of time and energy shopping for car insurance as they do for other items. After all, car insurance can be confusing, it never goes "on sale" (it only seems to get more expensive), it isn't much "fun" to buy, and it seems like no one place always has the best prices. But what if one place compared the rates from over 30 insurance companies? And what if it would only take about 10 minutes? And what if you could end up saving hundreds, or even thousands of dollars? This is where InsuranceHotline.com can help by providing a free unbiased rate comparison service for your driving profile that can connect you with the lowest rate available through our large network of licensed brokers and agents.

Don't Be Fooled By Others Offering To "Compare Quotes"

Unlike most of its competitors, InsuranceHotline.com does not sell insurance, is not a licensed broker or agent, and is not owned in whole or in part by an insurance company. This allows InsuranceHotline.com to be unbiased when providing insurance quotes and keeps its focus solely on finding lower insurance rates for consumers. By contrast, most websites offering to "compare insurance quotes" are owned by or affiliated with insurance brokers or agents and are therefore only capable of quoting rates from the limited number of insurance companies they represent, typically no more than 4 or 5.

Rate Comparison

Driving Record	Lowest Price	Highest Price	Savings
Clean Record	$958	$2,213	$1,255
1 Ticket	$1,018	$2,552	$1,534
1 Accident	$1,849	$3,753	$1,904

Drought creating a crisis

A severe drought has plunged millions of Somalis into crisis after rains failed for several consecutive seasons in this Horn of Africa nation, and the UN and aid groups are warning of the possibility of a looming catastrophe.

The drought has increased the number of malnourished children in some regions, displaced thousands of people and killed thousands of animals.

Officials in a central Somali region said 18 people died of drought-related effects.

"The situation is dire. It is an added vulnerability to an already extremely vulnerable people," the UN's humanitarian chief, Valerie Amos, told The Associated Press after touring camps for displaced people in Somalia's semiautonomous region of Puntland on Wednesday.

Amos's one-day trip was intended, she said, "to remind the people that there is still a long, ongoing problem in Somalia. I don't want the people to forget Somalia."

Poll: Majority oppose sports venue funding

A new poll suggests a majority of Canadians doesn't want the federal government pouring tax dollars into arenas or stadiums for professional sports teams.

The Canadian Press Harris-Decima survey found 55 per cent of respondents opposed federal funding for such facilities.

Forty-one per cent were supportive.

However, the number who were strongly opposed (24 per cent) or strongly supportive (11 per cent) was relatively low, suggesting opinion could yet be swayed one way or the other.

"That certainly said to me it's not necessarily the most emotional (issue), the topic of most engagement for people," said Doug Anderson, Harris-Decima's senior vice-president. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Whodunit? The nanny did it!

Child minder admits to poisoning sex shop queen ● Disliked the cook

A former nanny employed by the owner of a chain of British sex shops has admitted to spiking her boss's soup with windshield-washer fluid.

Allison Cox pleaded guilty Thursday to one charge of administering poison to Jacqueline Gold "with intent to injure, aggrieve or annoy." The Crown dropped two other charges of attempted poisoning with sugar and salt.

The hearing was the first time the Crown revealed a motive for the poisoning last October. Prosecutor Rachel Davies said Cox, 33, tampered with the food in an attempt to get the household's chef in trouble.

"The nanny had 'some animosity ... towards the cook. She put (the poison) into the food to cause the cook to be questioned about it.'" RACHEL DAVIES, PROSECUTOR

The plot unravelled after Gold criticized the cook about the odd-tasting food. The chef grew suspicious and removed the leftover broth from the garbage to investigate.

Cox will be sentenced March 4. She is free on bail.

Judge's son charged trying to cash in chips

$1.5M
The value of chips stolen from the Bellagio resort, in denominations from $100 to $25,000.

The son of a Las Vegas judge faces felony charges in a brazen casino robbery in which a helmeted bandit brandished a gun at a craps table, grabbed $1.5 million in casino chips and sped off on a motorcycle.

Anthony M. Carleo, also known as Anthony M. Assad, 29, was arrested after allegedly trying to sell high-value chips to undercover police. The Las Vegas Review-Journal reports that he is the son of Las Vegas municipal court judge George Assad.

The robbery took place Dec. 14 at the Bellagio resort. Security-camera video of the heist was widely shown on the Internet.

Casino security experts said the thief's choice of booty was foolish, since casinos track chips, especially high-dollar chips. In December, Bellagio announced it was discontinuing its $25,000 chip and gamblers had until April 22 to redeem them.

Anticipating expenses key to retirement

Up to 70 per cent of salary needed People think 'they can behave as if they're still working': Expert

As the March 1 deadline looms for contributing to an RRSP, Canadians will be bombarded by chipper advertisements from financial institutions on how to retire in style. But what will it take in RRSPs, investments, savings and pensions to maintain the standards you're used to?

Many Canadians fail to anticipate how much money they will need and may not be saving enough, experts warn. Patricia Lovett-Reid, senior vice-president of TD Waterhouse, says many of the people she counsels are shocked when they hear it could take $1 million to enjoy retirement as much as their working days. She said 50 per cent of pre-retirement income is enough to lead a "modest" lifestyle in retirement. But she likes to use the 70 per cent rule. If the gross salary for the average couple is $63,900 at age 65, that couple would need to generate 70 per cent of that annually in retirement.

Much of what's needed is driven by what people intend to do once they retire. Planning should take into account the expenses they anticipate will result from their spending choices. "Understand how much it costs to keep the lifestyle that you are enjoying today and lock it in," she said.

Future shock

- Those going into retirement with consumer debt and mortgages may have to get "creative" about generating income, says financial writer and TV host Gail Vaz-Oxlade.
- You may need to consider getting a roommate, becoming a companion to an elderly person, working part time or selling your house to get out of debt.
- "We were sold retirement as the day you climb on a sailboat and head out into the Caribbean. But that's not what retirement is for 85 per cent of us," Vaz-Oxlade says.

TSX jumps on positive data from tech sector

But uncertainty in the Mideast has helped to drive crude prices up almost seven per cent over the last week

A positive earnings report in the technology sector as well as merger and acquisition activity among gold miners helped push the Toronto stock market higher Thursday.

The S&P/TSX composite index jumped 161.06 points to 13,841.35 with the market also benefiting from data showing fewer U.S. jobless insurance claims and higher than expected expansion in the American service sector.

The TSX Venture Exchange gained 39.74 points to 2,363.91.

The tech sector was the major support, up almost four per cent after software company Open Text Corp. nearly doubled its second-quarter profit to $37.1 million US. On an adjusted basis, income was $70.5 million or $1.21 per share, up 41 per cent from $50.1 million or 87 cents per share.

That easily beat analyst expectations of $1.07 US per share and Open Text stock surged $5.85, or 11.69 per cent, to $55.90.

The company also announced that it plans to expand its software business by paying $182 million cash to buy Metastorm Inc. of Baltimore, Md.

Gold stocks also advanced as continued unrest in Egypt helped push the April bullion contract on the Nymex up $20.90 at $1,353 US an ounce.

5 MINUTES WITH: ALENA KLENOT

One of the city's top celebrity makeup artists has launched a new app to teach you how to give face like the stars.

There are tons of makeup artists out there. How does one get to be a celebrity makeup artist?
It's the practice. I work with lots of celebrities and I got there because, obviously, I think I was good (laughs). Someone can recommend you, but you have to keep up.
Who was your first celebrity?
Celine Dion. I was working on the CBC Olympic Games and that's how we got acquainted. My ex-husband used to coach her on her English, and when she hosted her first Junos in 1995, he wrote her script and I worked on her image. That's how everything started.
So be honest: Are they really better looking than the rest of us, or is it just good craftsmanship?
It's not that they are better looking, but there are more people looking after them. It's their job to look good, and they're very aware of that so they really take care of themselves; they exercise, eat well, they have lots of people pampering them. I'm sure everybody with the same regime would look a couple of years younger.
Is there a simple thing we can do ourselves to at least approximate that?
Exfoliation. I see lots of buildup from makeup. Use brown sugar at home with your favourite cleanser and scrub your face before you go to bed. You don't have to buy an expensive product. The sugar will melt so the granules won't be too harsh and scrape your face. Plus it's natural.
You recently launched a new app. What's the idea behind it?
Because I also teach makeup I realized there are lots of people who want to be educated but don't have the resources. My staff and I talked to 200 girls between 13 and 25 and we asked them what they would like to know. Our app has techniques, lots of tutorials, and still photography.
What's the response been like?
The application was launched on Jan. 8. We haven't even been out for a month and we're getting up to 2,000 hits a day. And it's international, not just in Canada.
Do you think the reality of today is that you can't just be an artist, you also have to be an entrepreneur?
Definitely. ● JORDANA DIVON

Super party ingredients

Letters & Tweets

We asked: What are your critical ingredients for a good Super Bowl party?

@ren_thompson: a case of Molson Canadian, heaping platters of wings, chips, dips, nachos and Alka-Seltzer.

@dubstf: a handful of feminist scholars, vegan bean dip, gluten-free nachos, a glass of organic vino + an Ashley Simpson halftime show.

@zalinther: Super Bowl = beer, beer, beer. Oh, did I mention BEER??

@kofi604: critical ingredients for a super bowl party is ... beer, nachos, friends, hot wings, more beer!!!!!! And ur team winning!

@fercarneiro: Beer and a pre-Super Bowl game of football in the snow with your buddies. And beer.

@miroslavglavic: Wings, beer and popcorn.

We asked: In honour of Groundhog Day, what's your favourite Bill Murray movie?

TORONTO. I think Groundhog Day narrowly edges out Ghostbusters. It was nice to see that Bill was capable of playing a romantic lead. SCOTT GREGORY

Metro Minute with Bob Marley tributes

You know what this Sunday is, right? No, it's not just the end to another miserable winter week. It's the birthday of immortal reggae god Bob Marley. If that doesn't toast your tootsies, nothing else will, my friend.

Still not feeling the heat? You're a tough customer. All right. How about an onslaught of Bob Marley tribute concerts to spark the warmth of pure love. Celebrate with Kidd Rasta & The Peacemakers tonight at the El Mocambo (464 Spadina), while up the street and around the corner you'll find Willi Williams and Tonya P at the Annex Wreck Room (794 Bathurst).

Oh! And bring a non-perishable food item for local charities. Bob approves. ● JORDANA DIVON

Richard Crouse and Mark Breslin debate the Cameron-produced Sanctum
No-name actors don't deliver in the poorly-written film — but it is in 3-D

Richard Crouse: Mark, the early part of the year is supposed to be the worst movie going season, but so far it hasn't been so bad. But Sanctum is my first seatbelt movie of the year; a film so awful I thought I might need a seatbelt to keep me in my chair for the whole thing.

Mark Breslin: Oh, yeah? I'm a claustrophobe AND have a fear of water. Plus, I'm allergic to bad writing. So I squirmed through this as well. But let me say something good about the movie: the 3-D not only was technically superb, it enhanced the plot, what little there was. You must admit, it put you in the middle of the adventure.

RC: If you're allergic to bad writing then stay away. The dialogue is so wooden I swear I saw woodpeckers circling the theatre. I'll admit the 3-D was OK, and some of the pictures were beautiful, but I couldn't help but think it wasn't enough to keep me interested. Don't you think, with some editing, it could have made a better National Geographic cave documentary than an adventure movie?

MB: Definitely. And one of the "characters" even references National Geographic! But then we wouldn't be treated to the stellar "acting" of the no-name cast. Richard, do you mean you weren't moved to tears by the way the son learns to love his irascible but courageous dad? Why, I haven't seen that in a movie in ... weeks!

RC: The father and son dynamic doesn't ring true, but then again, very little in this movie does. Scenes that should be tension-filled are just tedious and how is it that someone, who we're told has "broken every bone in their body," is able to tightly grab the first character that walks by? Am I being too picky?

MB: No, but the scene does illustrate the limitations of a safety helmet. The scene that offended me was the climactic one between father and son, because it had already been done with other characters earlier on. What could have been moving — even shocking — was banal. I should have stayed home and watched The Hole again.

RC: My advice is to stay home and watch anything else. Watch paint dry ... the acting is better. And a further word of advice: Don't be fooled by James Cameron's name in the credits. Sanctum is no Avatar.

Plot synopsis

▶ In this James Cameron-produced 3-D underground extravaganza, a group of underwater cave divers explore a cave system in Papua New Guinea. The dangerous mission becomes even more life-threatening when a sudden storm floods the system. The only way out is a dangerous route downward toward the ocean. The question is: How many will survive?

Big money

Thanks to the titanic grosses from his 3-D smash Avatar, director James Cameron was Hollywood's top money-earner in 2010, according to Vanity Fair. The Kapuskasing, Ont.-born filmmaker raked in an estimated $257 million to land atop the magazine's list. The 56-year-old earned $253 million in revenue from Avatar (which excludes the $50 million he earned from the film in 2009) and $4 million for his older films. Johnny Depp was next, followed by Steven Spielberg, Christopher Nolan and Leonardo DiCaprio.

Gnomeward bound

McAvoy stars as a lawn ornament in animated film Gnomeo and Juliet

NED EHRBAR
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA
METRO WORLD NEWS IN LOS ANGELES

James McAvoy is gearing up for a busy 2011 as he finishes up filming X-Men: First Class, in which he stars as mutant leader Charles Xavier.

But first, he's finding love on the wrong side of the fence, lending his voice to the romantic lead in the animated Gnomeo and Juliet, with its soundtrack of Elton John classics.

McAvoy sat down with Metro to talk about voiceover work, joining the X-Men and where Elton John truly belongs.

This is your first animated film?

Yeah. I did a puppet film a long time ago, but that was really just voicing over the work of a lot of Danish actors. Actually it's been really rewarding, artistically speaking. You get to go in and give it everything. And they don't ever really tell you no, and they never tell you whether it's bad or good. Well, they do say it's great a lot, but you kind of go, "You say, 'It's great' to everything. I'm not sure it can be true because I was pretty crummy in that last one."

Why do gnomes love Elton John music so much?

Well, I think his natural place is in the garden. It's a little-known fact about Elton John, but I think he's a very green-fingered gentleman. And maybe that's why. I thought we were going to have Crocodile Rock in the movie. I didn't think we were going to get anything else, so when I saw the film about a week and a half ago, I was really surprised to see that the entire musical concept for the film was taken from his back catalogue — and some new stuff as well.

You've got quite a supporting cast in this.

I think my favourite, I have to say, is Hulk Hogan. Having Hulk Hogan is hysterical. That's the moment that I laughed more than anything else. Ozzy Osbourne was fantastic. Michael Caine, Dame Maggie Smith — and Jason Statham! Oh my God, the Transporter! I actually raced the Transporter. Come on! Yeah, he doesn't mess with me, man. He knows where to draw the line. He knows he's punching above his weight.

How is X-Men: First Class going?

GETTY IMAGES

▶ James McAvoy

Really good. We've got about another two weeks filming here, and then I think we're done. And like all movies, it's a slog. We're just working 24-7. It's big. It's a big, big, big production. It's kind of nice to be on those things.

Are you prepared for the attention you'll get as part of a comic book franchise?

What, prepared to run away and hide? I'm very much prepared to run away and hide. I'm very much prepared not to publicize it at all and just run away and hide.

Backstage with Bieber

What's Bieber really like? This multi-millionaire pop superstar loves his fans, misses Tim Hortons

RICHARD CROUSE

METRO WORLD NEWS IN TORONTO

▶ Justin Bieber and Usher in Bieber's new movie Never Say Never.

Each time I interview someone really famous the questions start. How's Gwyneth's skin? How tall is Brad Pitt? I've even been asked what George Clooney smells like.

But since I hosted a press event with Justin Bieber to publicize his new movie Never Say Never on Tuesday in Toronto, the question that everyone has asked is much more basic: What's he like?

I won't presume to be able to answer that question after only spending 30 or so minutes with the pop prodigy, but I have a few observations based on our short time together.

Firstly, he's a high-energy kid. Backstage he was a bundle of energy. When he wasn't tweeting or sharing funny YouTube videos with his stylist Ryan, he was chatting and joking around.

"I hope you're a good translator," he joked as we walked to the stage. "Because I'm going to do the whole interview in Spanish." Then he burst into song. "Feliz Navidad..."

Onstage, he showed another aspect of his personality. Less than two years ago he was playing to 40 fans at a water park in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Now he can sell out Madison Square Gardens in 22 minutes. But he hasn't forgotten the people who got him there — his fans.

"Where are my fans at?" he asked. "There's a lot of fans [outside]. Can we bring those fans in? I love you guys with the cameras and stuff, but what's the point if my fans aren't here?"

Also, he's as humble as a pop superstar can be. When I asked him when he first felt famous, he said: "I still don't really notice it. I'm still just a regular teenage boy, living his dream and having a lot of fun." Later I asked about household chores. "I do clean my room, especially when I'm home at my grandma's house."

Lastly, I learned he's still a proud Canadian, with a taste for a particular icy cocktail not served in his new hometown of Atlanta, Georgia.

"I miss Tim Hortons," he said. "I miss Timmy's! I miss my Ice Cap."

So what's Justin Bieber really like? Well, he's just like any other high-energy, fan-lovin' Canadian multi-millionaire 16-year-old pop superstar with a taste for chilled coffee.

Birdwatchers
Director: Marco Bechis
Stars: Ambrosio Vilhava
●●●
In the powerful drama Birdwatchers, a dispossessed tribe of Brazilian Guarani-Kaiowa Indians struggle between tradition and modern life when they attempt to reclaim ancestral land by squatting on a wealthy farmer's field. Virtually made without a script and starring first-time actors, Birdwatchers begins unsettled but ultimately delivers an unnerving look at the reality of an endangered culture, in spite of some slightly clichéd subplots. ● STEVE GOW

Oliver Sherman
Director: Ryan Redford
Stars: Garret Dillahunt, Donal Logue, Molly Parker
●●●
A small film about a damaged veteran visiting a former army buddy that might not avoid clichés, but works thanks to a subtly suspenseful directorial approach and a trio of extraordinary central performances. Garret Dillahunt stars as the titular vet who hasn't been right since taking a bullet to the head. Dillahunt is equally disturbing and sadly sympathetic in the role and gets strong support from the perpetually underrated Donal Logue and Molly Parker. ● PHIL BROWN

The Time That Remains
Director: Elia Suleiman
Stars: Elia Suleiman, Ali Suleiman
●●½
Palestinian filmmaker Elia Suleiman gets stuck in shtick with The Time That Remains. Rather than animating this partly autobiographical reminiscence of Arab struggle in the newly created State of Israel circa 1948, the actor-director's trademark deadpan style — both in front of the camera and behind it — feels ladled over the material. The film is heavy and obvious where it needs to be allusive, although there are a few great sight gags, like one involving a tank with its sights trained on an oblivious civilian.

Great Sex

Happiness for couples is a satisfying sex life.

Erosyn™ is the only product that helps most women to restore libido, desire and the ability to climax. There is no drug or natural product like it.

Eroxil™ helps most men to perform like in their 20's. Evidence of a few hundred testimonials on our web site with full names and towns. All 100% true: ■ Eroxil is the best of all the supplements for men I've tried. Boosts my sex drive and I'm able to function anytime. Angus Gutke, 45, Calgary, AB ■ Regained virility in 3 days. My libido was restored for good sex. I've given it also to friends with the same results. One of them is a diabetic and overweight. Dr. Louis Rolland, 72, St. Hyacinthe, QC ■ Having orgasms off the Richter scale. It's like I'm a teenager again. The world owes you big time. Lawrie Roberts, 47, Toronto, ON ■ Wonderful to feel like a man again. It's wonderful to feel close to my wife again. God bless you! Charles E. Palen, 77, Burnaby, BC

Evidence from our web site: ■ Erosyn saved my marriage. I'm overjoyed! My libido is back. Words cannot describe how grateful I am. Carla Daunais, 32, St-Hubert, QC ■ I've been married for 13 years and never experienced climaxes in the last 12 years - untill I took Erosyn. New sex life is exciting! What a miracle! Jeane Adams, 37, American Fork, UT ■ My sexual desire is greater now than it was for 30 years. It's wonderful to have such ecstatic joy. I've tried others that didn't work. Eve Jameson, 58, Kingman, AZ ■ I'm 92 and sex is good again. Regained intimacy makes life more interesting. Florence Fryer, Edmonton, AB

ARTHRITIS

Pain free in 2 weeks!

#1

This is what happened to me personally. After suffering for years I desperately tried everything, drugs, natural products,physiotherapy, acupuncture, magnets and nothing was of any real help. Finally I had relief in 2 weeks by taking shark cartilage that was specially processed to preserve the natural active ingredients. This is the kind we are now promoting. I realized then that there are over 50 million men and women that are battling the same illness and getting treatments that are not working well, otherwise we would not have this ongoing huge health problem. In the last 10 years we have helped tens of thousands of men and women to have less pain or no pain at all. This is a by-product of the food industry. No sharks are caught because of their bones/cartilage. Nick A. Jerch, President

We have real EVIDENCE that it works. On our web site you find over 100 testimonials with full names and towns. All 100% true. Skeptics may call them. Here are some examples: ■ Doctor suggested knee replacement after all his options failed with drugs and cortisone shots in knee and lower back. I recommend Bell Shark Cartilage to those millions suffering needlessly like I did for 40 years with arthritis in my knees. It's a shame that I was given drugs and injections all these years when a natural medicine could have spared me the endless torture day and night. Pat Laughlin, Coldwater, ON ■ My hip is 95% pain free. Pain killing drugs mask and Bell Shark Cartilage heals. Rebecca Hite, Oroville, CA ■ I tried another brand and pain came back. 2 weeks on Bell and pain is gone again. Gert Dupuis, Hanmer, ON ■ Cancelled knee replacement. I was in pain and limping. Have no more pain now. Can square dance for hours. Anton Melnychuk, Porcupine Plain, SK. ■ For 32 years I cried barrels of tears. Was in and out of hospitals costing society tens of thousands of dollars. I have taken many thousands of pills that nearly killed me. Finally 3 bottles of Bell Shark Cartilage costing less than $100 stopped a lifetime of suffering without side effects. Eleanor Sauson, Shigawake, QC ■ Others write: Can walk again for hours…Climb stairs without hanging on to railing…First time in 15 years can sleep at night…Rheumatoid pain in joints down 90%, same for my sister.

Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea #4a

■ Relief in 3-5 days from dribbling, burning and rushing to the toilet. If you are considering surgery, try this tea first. Must work of money refunded. 99% success rate. Helps virtually everybody quickly. The only prostate remedy that works so well that it comes with a money-back guarantee. Literally hundreds of delighted men testifying on our web site: ■ Doctor said to keep on drinking the tea. Prescribed prostate drugs did not help. Leonard Pearcey, Wassis, NB ■ I cancelled my prostate surgery. Get up once a night. I'm so happy not to have to face the torment of a prostate operation and incontinence or impotency. Albert E. Blain, 74, Schumacher, ON ■ Even after TURP prostate surgery and microwave therapy had to get up many times. Now down to 1-2 times. Tea is 100% better than drugs. Robert G. Stocker, Eustasis, FL ■ After 1st year drinking tea my PSA went down to 4.5; after 2nd year to 2.9; after 3rd year to 2.3. I highly recommend the tea. A real life saver. Thomas M. Thurston, Forsyth, GA

White Stripes fade to black

Meg and Jack White call it quits after 13 years
Metro music reporter Pat Healy remembers the first time he saw them, 10 years ago

PAT HEALY
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

In an announcement on their website on Wednesday, the White Stripes let the world know that they are breaking up.

It has almost been a full decade since I first became aware of Meg and Jack White's band. In 2001, my friend and I had a fledgling record label and we wanted to scout out the SXSW conference in Austin, Texas.

While there I had the opportunity to take in some great acts, including the White Stripes.

Dressed in what would come to be their trademark red getups, Jack stepped up to the mic as twilight was setting in and said, "This is my sister, Meg" about the cute girl behind the drumkit that he had actually once been married to. Nobody had any idea at the time that it was just a gimmick.

What I remember most fondly from the evening was their take on Dolly Parton's Jolene and You're Pretty Good Looking.

Rock on, White Stripes.

FASCINATING, AND COMPLETELY USELESS

Sound Check

ALAN CROSS
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

In addition to writing this column every Friday, I also have to write six long-form radio programs, ten short-form radio features and a couple of dozen blog entries. In the course of the ongoing research, I run across some amazing but utterly useless information. Here are a few of my favourites.

1. William Willet, the man responsible for pushing the UK and the British Empire into adopting daylight saving time is the great-great-grandfather of Coldplay singer Chris Martin.
2. In 2002, some well-funded but obviously very bored Austrian psychologists determined that cats tend to prefer music with deep bass and fast beats like heavy electronic music or house. They also hate guitar solos and songs with lots of high frequencies.
3. The first intentional use of the f-word in a song can be found in CIA Man by the Fugs from 1965.
4. When Apple constructed an iPod prototype in 2001, the first track engineers ripped from CD and transferred to the device was Groove Jet by an Italian DJ who goes by the name Spiller.
5. While a vinyl album sounds as good as a 7-inch single, audio quality on an LP degrades slightly as the needle moves towards the centre.
6. Jack White was headed to a seminary to study to become a priest when he discovered he couldn't bring his guitar amp. So he dropped out.
7. The first video ever shown on MTV was Video Killed the Radio Star. The second was You'd Better Run by Pat Benetar.
8. The album with the longest title in history is a 2007 release by a Belgian outfit called Soulwax. It's 103 words long, beating out Fiona Apple's old record of 90 words.
9. Most standard toilets flush in the key of E-flat. I have no idea who felt the need to figure this out.

There. Don't you feel smarter?

Kidman spills on marriage to Cruise

Admitting that being a wife to Tom was more than she'd bargained for

GETTY IMAGES FILE

Nicole Kidman is opening up about her marriage to Tom Cruise and the state her split from her first husband left her in.

"I was really damaged and not sure whether (love and marriage) was ever going to happen again to me," she tells Marie Clare magazine. She admits that being Cruise's wife turned out to be more than she'd bargained for.

"I was never seeking to be a celebrity," she says. "But I was prepared to do that for love." METRO

Kate Moss getting hitched?

Kate Moss is reportedly engaged to marry

boyfriend Jamie Hince, according to the Sun.

"Kate is delighted. Jamie is the man for her," a source says. "They are soul mates. She just wanted to make him work for her hand in marriage. He has been badgering her to get married, but she wanted to take her time."

The couple plans to wed in July. Moss reportedly joked to friends that she will be the most famous Kate to get married in 2011, taking a swipe at Prince William's fiancée, Kate Middleton. METRO

BARBIE IS STILL KEN'S DREAM GIRL

The gossip columns have been all aflutter for months with the news that Ken is doing everything he can to woo Barbie back into his life.

His latest stunt was a doozy. While Barbie dined atop the CN Tower with a girlfriend, Ken had an airplane fly by several times pulling a banner that read: 'Barbie, we were made for each other.'

Ken was spotted at the base of the tower looking hopeful. And, an unnamed source said Barbie's face lit up immediately and she couldn't stop smiling all night.

Talking points

Britney denies using body double

PEOPLE Britney Spears has been accused of relying on a "dance double" for her new music video, something her reps are quick to refute.

"The accusations could not be further from the truth," her rep says in a statement to E! News.

"Britney worked extremely hard on this video and rehearsed for six weeks prior to shooting."

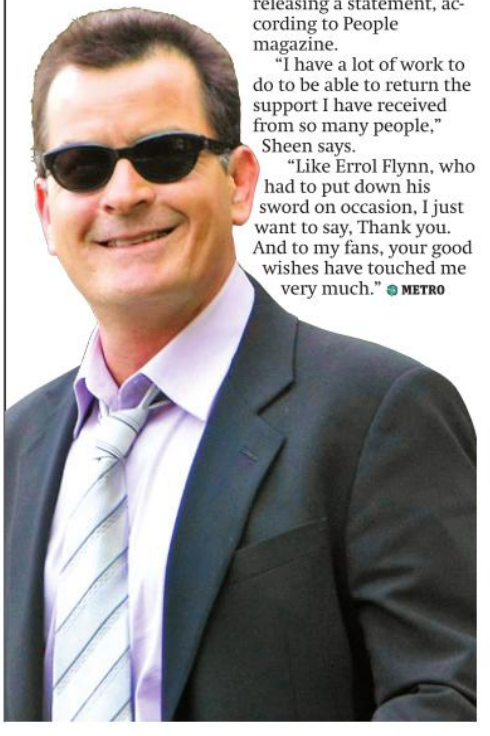
The clip's director, Jonas Akerland, even released a statement defending Spears, saying, "She's been great throughout the entire process." METRO

Johansson dines with Reynolds

PEOPLE Scarlett Johansson and Ryan Reynolds were spotted dining out in L.A. recently, but if Johansson's demeanor during dinner is any indication, they're not getting back together.

"She would at some points smile, then appear to fight back tears," a source tells Us Weekly.

"They have divorce details to work out, and they'd rather do it face-to-face than in some office." METRO



Celebrity tweets

Carrie Fisher [@CarrieFFisher] no authority is higher than reality

Leonard Nimoy [@TheRealNimoy] Sorry for the East Coast under snow. I'm finishing a great vacation. Looking forward to doing some appearances.

Nick Frost [@nickjfrost] I'm awake! Couldn't sleep, had creepy nightmare with loads of glossy black spiders.

Sarah Silverman [@SarahKSilverman] Life is so short! I'm gonna watch every possible episode of Law&Order while I'm strong & healthy! METRO

Charlie Sheen thanks fans for support

PEOPLE While receiving personalized rehab treatment, Charlie Sheen decided to show his gratitude to his supporters by releasing a statement, according to People magazine.

"I have a lot of work to do to be able to return the support I have received from so many people," Sheen says.

"Like Errol Flynn, who had to put down his sword on occasion, I just want to say, Thank you. And to my fans, your good wishes have touched me very much." METRO

This weekend, the real battle is between brews

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

I have a confession to make. This Super Bowl Sunday, I'll be drinking wine as I watch the big game.

That makes me one of a very small minority of football fans because the day undeniably belongs to beer.

And why shouldn't it? With all due respect to the ladies, beer is a perfect companion for guy food.

Whether it be nachos smothered in cheese and sprinkled with jalapeño peppers, bowls of salty potato chips or greasy takeout pizza: The clean, thirst-quenching taste and refreshing effervesce of a good brew (especially a lager style) helps wash it all down better than any wine.

That said, though Pittsburgh and Green Bay may be fighting it out on the field, this Sunday is really a battle of the beers.

And while Budweiser, Bud Light and Coors Light will spend millions on commercials — and no doubt be the guests of honour at most Super Bowl parties — there is so much more to American suds.

Anchor Steam (6 x 355 ml, $12. 50 - $13.55; 1 x 355 ml, $2.99) from San Francisco's Anchor Steam Brewery is an iconic West Coast ale with a U.K. sensibility that comes through in its lightly roasted, well-balanced malt flavour.

Game grub — with a twist

These aren't your tired Super Bowl snacks ◗ Upgrade your chips & dip

EMILY RICHARDS
FOOD@METRONEWS. CA

We are a football family but I must admit; although I don't really know everything about the game, I certainly enjoy watching it and specifically enjoy the snacks.

I'm simply a non-partisan participant and just happy to have good food to share with friends.

A simple menu is key with tasty, but upgraded, favourites like nachos and pizza or chili. Whether you are eating before or during the game, kick it off right with comfort food and cold beer.

Guacamole Salsa Dip

Fresh ripe avocados make a creamy dip that is perfect for dipping crunchy tortilla chips into.

Need some added colour? Try some veggies to dip alongside.

The combination of flavours will make this guacamole a new household favourite for every sporting event.

Prep time: 10 mins
Makes: 2.5 cups (625 mL)

▶ In two simple steps, you can serve fresh Guacamole Salsa Dip at your Super Bowl party.

Ingredients:

- 2 ripe avocados
- ½ cup (125 mL) hummus
- ½ cup (125 mL) salsa
- 1 jalapeno pepper, seeded and minced
- 1 tbsp (15 mL) lime juice
- ¼ tsp (1 mL) salt
- Chopped fresh coriander (optional)

Preparation:

1. In large bowl, using a potato masher, mash avocado until smooth. Stir in hummus, salsa, jalapeno, lime juice and salt. Sprinkle with coriander, if using.
2. Serve with tortilla chips or veggies.

Chili Pizza

I decided to take the two things most people like to eat while watching and enjoying the Super Bowl and combine them into one. I hope you like it, my crowd certainly does.

4 to 6 servings
Prep time: 20 mins
Cooking: 25 mins

▶ This Chili Pizza combines everyone's favourite Super Bowl snacks into one.

Preparation:

1. In a nonstick skillet, heat oil over medium heat and cook onion and garlic for about 3 minutes or until softened. Add beef, chili powder, oregano and cumin and cook, breaking up meat for about 8 minutes or until browned. Add tomatoes, red pepper, beans and salt and cook for about 5 minutes or until thickened. Set aside.
2. Roll out pizza dough to 14 inch (35 cm) circle and place on pizza pan. In a bowl, combine pizza sauce and cayenne. Spread over pizza dough. Sprinkle with chili mix and cheese.
3. Bake in centre of 400 F (200 C) oven for about 25 minutes or until cheese is melted and crust is golden.

Ingredients:

- 2 tsp (10 mL) canola oil
- 1 small onion, diced
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 8 oz (250 g) extra lean ground beef
- 1 tbsp (15 mL) chili powder
- 1 tsp (5 mL) dried oregano leaves
- ½ tsp (2 mL) ground cumin
- 1 can (14 oz/398 mL) diced tomatoes, drained
- Half sweet red pepper, diced
- 1 cup (250 mL) cooked canned drained and rinsed kidney beans
- ¼ tsp (1 mL) salt
- 1 pkg (680 g) pizza dough (homemade or store-bought)
- ¾ cup (175 mL) pizza or pasta sauce
- Pinch cayenne pepper
- 2 cups (500 mL) Tex mex/nacho flavoured shredded cheese mix

Beer Cocktails

Something new is on tap on the bar scene as mixologists brew up beer cocktails.

"Beer as an ingredient can offer such a variety of flavours," says Jacob Grier, a drinks blogger. "They can be sweet and malty. They can have chocolate roasty notes. That make excellent cocktails."

Grier was introduced to the beer cocktail after watching Canadian beer writer Stephen Beaumont concoct some at a cocktail event.

When mixing beers with spirits, it's important to look for harmony, like the fruitiness of rums and most IPAs, or the aromatics of some blond ales and gins, says Beaumont.

DARREN PARKMAN
TRAVEL@METRONEWS.CA

Sure, Costa Rica has sunny beaches and swaying palms, but this Central American paradise has a lot more to offer — particularly in the form of true eco-adventure.

On a Transat Holidays tour, I found myself smack dab in the middle of a lush mountain jungle, surrounded by (no kidding) giant hairy sloths, screaming howler monkeys and wild long-snouted tapirs. You won't find this kind of wildlife in downtown Cancun.

One of the biggest tourist attractions in this clean country is the beautiful cone-shaped — and active — Arenal volcano. This 5,000-foot-high wonder blew its top back in 1968 and has been erupting ever since, making for some nervous hiking up to the crater. It's one of the 10 most active volcanoes in the world, so it's not uncommon to behold glowing orange lava flows and sudden explosions. But it's all worth it for the breathtaking view.

DARREN PARKMAN

▶ Viper snake

I found myself hiking up the volcano in sweltering heat on a narrow jungle trail, taking in the abundant wildlife, surrounded by all that volcanic rock.

After spotting a few long-beaked toucans and an iguana or two, it wasn't long before I nearly stumbled over a cute little snake with a heart-shaped head, coiled up in the middle of our path.

I almost wanted to pick this little guy up for a closer look. Instead, I pointed out my slithery friend to our jungle guide, who quickly informed me we had discovered a baby hog-nosed viper snake.

It turns out that little fellow is one of the most poisonous snakes in the country — one little nip could have killed me in 40 minutes.

The volcano hike ended with a breathtaking view of the crater and the realization that life is precious. There's nothing like a close encounter with a scary snake to make you all philosophical.

Air Transat offers direct flights to Costa Rica from Vancouver, Calgary, Winnipeg and Montreal.

What to do

Other cool things to do in Costa Rica:

- Whale watching in the South Pacific: Take a day tour to observe the magnificent humpbacks off Osa Penninsula — 25 different species of whales and dolphins migrate through these waters.
- White water rafting: The rainy season creates raging rivers throughout the country. Rafting day tours offer some bumpy adventure and great forest scenery.

Reimer making a strong case

Leafs get first shutout of the season behind solid rookie goalie

3	0
TORONTO MAPLE LEAFS
LEAFS	HURRICANES

James Reimer is making it very difficult for the Toronto Maple Leafs to send him back to the American Hockey League.

The rookie stopped 27 shots — and received plenty of help from his teammates — to record his first career NHL shutout in a 3-0 win over the Carolina Hurricanes Thursday night.

It was just the ninth career NHL appearance for the 22-year-old, who appears to have elbowed Jonas Gustavsson out of a job for the time being. The Monster watched Thursday's game from the press box while J.S. Giguere backed up Reimer.

Coach Ron Wilson said before the game it was an easy decision to start Reimer because he's been solid every time he's played. It got even better against the Hurricanes.

He denied Chad LaRose on a breakaway in the second period and made 12 saves in the final frame as a desperate Carolina team tried to climb back into the game.

Clarke MacArthur, Darryl Boyce and Kris Versteeg scored for Toronto (21-25-5).

Carolina falls to 25-21-6 — leaving it one point behind eighth-place Atlanta in the Eastern Conference standings.

There were a couple occasions where Reimer's teammates bailed him out. The most notable effort came from checking forward Tim Brent, who blocked three shots during a spirited 5-on-3 penalty kill that lasted one minute 36 seconds in the second. It was a hooking penalty to Reimer that put the Leafs down two men.

The team took a 2-0 lead to the dressing room after the second intermission.

MacArthur's 16th of the season — one off his career high — came on a long wrist shot that seemed to fool a screened Cam Ward. The Hurricanes goalie didn't have much chance when Boyce blocked a Joni Pitkanen clearing attempt along the boards and raced to the middle before beating him at 14:52.

Versteeg made it 3-0 at 6:25, just moments after Ward had made one of the best saves of the season. He dove across the net to take a certain goal away from Brent.

The loss was the second in a row for the Hurricanes coming out of the all-star break. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Griffin gets all-star nod along with 'Big Four'

Blake Griffin is going to his first NBA all-star game while Kevin Garnett matched an NBA record Thursday with his 14th straight selection as one of a record-tying four Boston Celtics headed for the mid-season event.

Rajon Rondo, Paul Pierce and Ray Allen will accompany Garnett, who tied Jerry West, Shaquille O'Neal and Karl Malone for the most consecutive selections. The Celtics joined the 2006 Detroit Pistons as the only teams to have four players picked as reserves by the coaches.

Griffin, the rookie of the year favourite of the Clippers, will be playing on his home floor in the Feb. 20 game at Staples Center. Chris Bosh will go to Los Angeles with Miami teammates LeBron James and Dwyane Wade. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota (11-37) is one of the few teams in the NBA behind Toronto in the overall standings. The Timberwolves have just two wins in their last 10 games, but one of them was an impressive 103-87 victory over the Raptors last Saturday.

The numbers have been ugly: Toronto (13-37) has lost 13 games in a row and given up at least 100 points in nine straight games. The Raptors are hoping a return to the Air Canada Centre will turn things around. Toronto will play eight of its next 10 games at home. THE CANADIAN PRESS

PLAYERS SURVERY

Steelers' grass slammed

The Pittsburgh Steelers have the worst grass field in the NFL, according to the latest survey by the players union.

The AFC champions ranked at the bottom when players were asked to evaluate the fields on a scale of three points for top choice, two for second and one for third.

Worst among the artificial turfs is the one at the Minnesota Vikings' Metrodome, which collapsed during a blizzard in December and forced two games to be moved.

University of Phoenix Stadium, home of the Arizona Cardinals, has the best grass field, while the best artificial turf is in Indianapolis' Lucas Oil Stadium, site of next year's Super Bowl.

Nearly 90 per cent of the players believe artificial turf causes more soreness and fatigue and is more likely to shorten their careers.

▶ Donald Driver celebrates as he walks off the field after the Packers beat the Falcons in the playoffs last month.

Veteran hands

Ward and Driver mentor runaway receivers who could make difference

Wood

all of 35 — stroked his whiskers and pondered the suggestion. Yes, he liked being called a mentor.

Donald Driver, who just turned 36, winced a bit before admitting that, yes, he liked it, too.

Pittsburgh's Ward and Green Bay's Driver, with a quarter-century in the NFL combined, no longer are the runaway receivers for their teams. No matter. There will be plenty of downfield dynamos around them Sunday when the Steelers and Packers meet in the Super Bowl.

"Sometimes you just have to accept your role," Driver said Thursday. "This year we had a bunch of great receivers that were able to step up. I had an injury earlier in the year that kind of set me back, but I think our young guys stepped up and played well.

"Those are the types of guys you want on the team, the ones that any time one of the veteran guys go down, they step up."

That would mean backups James Jones and Jordy Nelson. They complemented No. 1 receiver Greg Jennings and Driver so well that Green Bay had the fifth-best passing game in the league despite little balance and a third-string rookie getting much of the action at tight end.

Ward is surrounded by Mike Wallace, whose development in two NFL seasons has been "spectacular," Ward says, and rookies Antonio Brown and Emmanuel Sanders.

"I just try to spread my knowledge to these guys about the game," said Ward, the MVP of the 2006 Super Bowl. "The first Super Bowl, it was (Antwaan) Randle-El and myself. And the second Super Bowl, it was Santonio (Holmes) and myself. And now, playing in a third Super Bowl, it's Mike Wallace."

If the young players lean on the 13-year vet for guidance, Ward and the Steelers lean on them, too.

"With those guys, the more and more the season went on, the more and more they gained confidence and the more and more Ben (Roethlisberger) had confidence in them to make plays," Ward said. "They just stepped up each time their number was called. There's going to be a point in this game where not only myself, but the younger guys will have to step up big and make plays, and we have all the confidence in the world that they'll do it."

In a game featuring aggressive, physical and sometimes dominant defences, the wideouts could find yardage at a premium. But watch out if their quarterbacks have time to spot them and these speedy guys discover open spaces away from the likes of Steelers safety Troy Polamalu and Packers cornerback Charles Woodson.

Pittsburgh offensive coordinator Bruce Arians estimates Wallace can run a 4.1 40, but has to slow down to 4.3 to be able to make cuts.

Mike Wallace, WR

▶ Pittsburgh's speed demon, Wallace also has developed as an all-around pass catcher.

James Harrison, ROLB

▶ All-Pro linebacker and among most intimidating defenders in league. Led NFL in fines for illegal hits, even threatened to retire after NFL's crackdown.

Troy Polamalu, SS

▶ One of NFL's premier players, a versatile, freewheeling safety who hits hard, makes big plays. Perennial All-Pro with nose for the ball.

4 PACKERS TO WATCH

James Starks, RB

▶ Didn't do much in regular season with only 29 carries, but has emerged in playoffs, with 123 yards against Philadelphia in playoff opener.

Greg Jennings, WR

▶ One of league's most versatile and dangerous receivers. Will go over middle, down sidelines, anywhere to get the ball.

B.J. Raji, NT

▶ Made one of biggest plays of season for Packers with his interception return in NFC title game.

Charles Woodson, LCB

▶ 2009 defensive player of the year, Woodson is force against run and pass. Shutdown cover man who pops up all over the field.

SCOTT RUSSELL
FIELD OF PLAY

MOIR AND VIRTUES' GOLDEN DANCE REVIVAL

The impressive thing about champions is they don't know the meaning of the word quit. Self-satisfied accomplishment runs counter to the nature of a champion.

It was heartening this week to hear straight from the horse's mouth that Olympic gold medallists and world champions in the ice dance, Tessa Virtue and Scott Moir, are returning to the field of play.

"We will be back at Four Continents in two weeks and I can't wait to compete again," Moir wrote via email from the training base in Canton, Mich. "We still have the fire and I hope it will last for many more years."

That Virtue and Moir have committed to compete at the Four Continents figure skating championships in Chinese Taipei is welcome news. In October, she underwent a second surgery on her shins and calves in the space of two years to relieve the pain of chronic exertional compartment syndrome. Now it appears they are determined to qualify for the world championships in Tokyo with a view to defending their crown.

"We wanted Tessa to be healthy," Moir stressed. "That became our No. 1 priority and we knew the surgery was 100 per cent necessary. Still, it is always frustrating for an athlete not to be able to perform."

Last February, in winning the Olympic gold medal, Virtue and Moir delivered one of the greatest performances in the annals of figure skating. It's been compared favourably to Jayne Torvill and Christopher Dean's historic win at the 1984 Olympics in Sarajevo, which featured an icy rendition of Bolero.

Virtue and Moir are still young, both in their early 20s, and could achieve unprecedented success in their sport. While Torvill and Dean won four consecutive world championships they did not repeat as Olympic champions. Indications are Virtue and Moir will try to raise the bar on both accounts, given that the world championships in the year prior to the Sochi 2014 Games will be held in their own backyard in London, Ont.

"I will gladly share my thoughts on this," Moir said. "Tackling a post-Olympic season is very tricky, especially after the success we had last year. However, we are just as hungry if not more than we have ever been. I am very motivated by the challenge of repeating as world champions."

That sounds definitive.

The talk of a champion revived who will never say die.

Yankees' rotation loses its backbone

Pettitte retires with 203 Yankee wins, trailing only Whitey Ford and Red Ruffing Has felt the tug to return to his wife and four children in Texas

Andy Pettitte is going ahead with his decision to retire, leaving the New York Yankees with two huge holes in what appears to be a rather wobbly starting rotation.

The team scheduled a Friday morning news conference at Yankee Stadium for Pettitte to announce the choice he had been leaning toward since the end of last season.

"I don't think enough people know that he's still the leader of this pitching staff until today," former Yankee Paul O'Neill said in a telephone interview.

A five-time World Series champion and the third-winningest pitcher in team history, Pettitte became a free agent after the World Series. The 38-year-old lefthander has not tried to negotiate a contract.

New York now has no proven starters behind CC Sabathia, Phil Hughes and A.J. Burnett, who struggled last season.

Having failed to sign free agent Cliff Lee, New York has agreed to minor-league contracts with Bartolo Colon and Freddy Garcia in recent weeks, trying to find more options for a fourth and fifth starter.

Pettitte set a major league record for post-season wins, going 19-10 with a 3.83 ERA in his career.

Pettitte finished 240-138 with a 3.88 ERA in 16 major league seasons. A member of the "Core Four" along with Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera and Jorge Posada, Pettitte helped the Yankees win the World Series in 1996, 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2009.

He spent 13 seasons in New York and two with his hometown Houston Astros

"You're going to miss him taking the mound every fifth day. You're going to miss having him as your No. 1 or No. 2 starter going into the playoffs," said Pettitte's former teammate O'Neill.

Today's horoscope

For today's crossword answers and for expanded horoscopes, go to metronews.ca

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 Not everything in life can be explained logically and what happens today will most likely make you question a belief you have always taken for granted. That's good: it's limiting to think you know it all.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 The more others complain about what you are doing, the more you will keep on doing it. You would think by now they might have worked out that the one thing you don't say to Taurus is "cannot".

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 You like surprises, especially when you're the one calling the shots, and what you do over the next 24 hours is clearly designed to amaze others.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 These may be anxious times for you, but if you stand back from your life and see it as a whole, rather than just focus on individual things that are going wrong, you will see that you are still making progress.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug.23 Because you like to make up your mind quickly, it annoys you when others dither over what should be a simple decision. Today, you'll be the one who keeps everyone else waiting.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24- Sept. 22 Approach a chore you have to do with energy. Not only will you make a good job of it, which will do your reputation no harm at all, but you may discover a hidden talent.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 Not everything will work out the way you expect it to today but, it won't worry you in the slightest. You'll just get on and do something else.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 Certain people may be leaving out facts and figures that could affect the decisions you make today, so be sure you know what is going on before putting pen to paper. Listen to your Scorpio intuition.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21 Forget about trivial matters and focus only on the big issues today. Socially, this should be a day to remember but you'll enjoy it more if you avoid people whose interests are superficial.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 20 Partners and colleagues will be touchy over the next 24 hours, so watch what you say. Fortunately, as Venus moves into your birth sign today you'll want to create harmony.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 21-Feb. 18 The Sun's union with Mars in your sign will give you energy today. You won't be short of things to expend it on, either. Others will come to you for advice and assistance and you'll go out of your way to help.

♓ Pisces Feb. 19-March 20 Keep your innermost secrets to yourself today, no matter how tempted you may be to let a friend or family member in on what you've been up to.
